HOMICIDE NEAR KINGSTREE.—On Wednesday morning, Mr. Thomas McCotrey, residing with his family a short distance from the town of Kingstree, killed his daughter by sho ting her through the body. The father attempted to castigate the girl while holding his loaded gun in his left hand. The gun was accidentally discharged, with fatal effect to the girl, who dled in a few moments. McCotrey has been arrested for the deed, and is now in the custody of the sheriff of Williamsburg County.

WHERE THE PAPERS Go .- At an early hour vesterday morning a small negro boy was seen to pull THE DAILY NEWS from beneath the door of a residence on Coming street and make off with his prize. The paper had just been left by the carrier, and the little scoundrel was evidently on the watch for a chance to filch a copy of what is (although modesty forbids us to say it) the most popular newspaper in the State. Carriers must be careful to thrust the papers well under the doors, or to put them therwise out of reach. The juvenile thieves must not be tempted beyond their strength.

THE HOME OF NEW YORK .- The Home Insurance Company, of New York, after paying its heavy loss of almost two millions dollars in Chicago, will have its captital of two milllon dollars unimpaired, besides a surplus of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. A dispatch received by Major Hutson Lee, agent, from the president of the company, say the Home is all right, and will furnish a home to the wise ones who insured their Chicago property in this company. Two millions of dollars is a hard blow, but the Home is a staunch company, and policy-holders may place their confidence in the words of the veteran presi-

ROBBING THE COUNTY .- The examination in the case of Philip Wilson, the colored man who was committed to jail a few days since for attempting to pass a forged check for thirty-two dollars upon the county treasurer, has led to further developments, which implicate one of the model teachers of our county schools. The school is situated at the Forks of the road, in the county, and is known as Hayne's Chapel. The amount claimed by the teacher, a woman, is fitty dollars for herself, and forty-eight for an assistant teacher. Upon inquiry it was found that during the time for which these salaries were claimed to be due the school had not been open, showing a barefaced attempt to make the county pay for work which was not done. The teacher has been committed to jail to await her examination before Trial Justice Magrath, which takes place this morning. Several important facts have been brought to light which promise to disclose a general swindle at the examination.

THE HEALTH OF THE CITY.

The weather was decidedly cooler yesterday, and a more cheerful tone prevailed in both business and social circles. Only two deaths were reported up to 12 o'clock M., viz: a German, who died on the 11th, and a native South Carolinian, who died on the 10th.

THE OAKLEY MURDER.

The Prisoners, Identified-Evidence of the Widow-White Dying.

The news that the three murderers of W. B.

Fidea had been arrested spread quickly abroad, and early yesterday morning the widow of the murdered man came down to the coroner's office to give her testimony.

She was taken before Trial Justice T. J.

Mackey, and being sworn, testified that at the time her husband was murdered he had in his possession money to the amount of near eight hundred dollars in bills, coin and nickel, corresponding to that found in the leather wallet of Sam White. That all this was taken off, together with certain articles from the store, and some of his clothing. The black satin vest found in the oilskin sack, which White gave to Cupid for assisting him, she identified as the one stolen from her husband

HIS WEDDING VEST.

She glso swore that the white satin vest found in the possession of five-fingered Anthony belonged to her husband, and was stolen at the same time. The shoes and other articles besides she also identified, particularly a jar missed. A warrant was then ser 'o the Jail ness was then escorted by the trial justice to the jail, and taken into the cell where White the prisoner White lay upon the floor of his cell without giving any signs of consciousness.

His eyes were wife open and staring, and his breath long-drawn. The physician placed his finger near the pupil of the eye, and at last pressed it upon the ball, but the prisoner exhibited no signs of life. He is said to be laboring under congestion of the lungs and brain. On the return from the jail the bereaved lady was taken into the detective office

A LOOK AT FIVE-FINGERED ANTHONY.

This notorious character, who is well known in the annals of crime in this city, was called from the gloomy depths of his cell, No. 4, and made to show his dusky countenance in the light of day. Mrs. Fidea identified him also as one of the employees of Dr. Rhames at the same time with White. The two had also been seen loading around the station the day preceding the murder. The digital curiosities of to confirm the witness in her identification of signed, to be used at the trial of these prisoners for murder. The prisoner White appeared to be fast shuffling off this mortal coil, and it is thought that his natural death will forestall the retribution of justice. The papers and evidence taken at the inquest over the body of the murdered man were sent down yesterday, but contained nothing of interest beyond what has transpired.

excepting that they indicate that the later story of quinqui-digital Anthony is true, and that there were more than three assassins implicated in the foul deed. The country is aroused, and if there be others implicated,

PAYING POLITICS .- The residence of Senator C. P. Leslie in South Carolina must have been both profitable and pleasant. Only two or three weeks ago he bought a valuable piece of real estate in New York, and now we have the report in the New York Sun of another interesting transaction of the same

We yesterday received information from V. K. Stevenson & Son that they had sold at private sale for Francis W. Worth four lots, one hundred feet square, on the northwest corner of the Grand Boulevard and Eightieth street, for $59,000. The property was taken by Mr. Leslie, of South Carolina. These lots were bought in June last by Mr. Worth for $60,000, subject to the Riverside Park assessment of $1200, and the most singular feature of the transaction is that in the face of a recent offer of $70,000 made by John McClave, which was rejected, Mr. Worth should dispose of his property at so great a sacrifice.

IMPORTANT ADDITION TO THE WEATHER SIG-noon, from headquarters in Washington, by Sergeant J. E. Evans, the weather observer in this city, the cautionary signals, described bebarometers, and other instruments, by ship captains, or others interested, and the study of local signs of the weather, as clouds, &c., &c. These orders go into effect from and after the 23d instant, and a flagstaff for this purpose will be raised at once over the office of the observer. The flag will be raised or lowered as dispatches of "up signals" or "down signals" are received from the clerk of the weather in Washington. Arrangements have also been made by which one man will be on duty night and day in the office, in readiness to receive and carry out orders. These signals will be of great benefit to sea-going men; and, as the greater always includes the less, the numerous accidents to small boats in the harbor may, in future, be avoided by a glance at the observer's office.

The DIAMOND GLASSES, manufactured by J. E. SPENCER & CO., New York, which are now offered to the public, are pronounced by all the celebrated Opticians of the world to be the most Perfect, Natural Artificial help to the human eye ever known. They are ground under their own supervision, from minute Crystal Pebbles, nelted together, and derive their name, "Diamond," on account of their hardness and brilliancy.

The scientific principle on which they are constructed brings the core or centre of the lens directly in front of the eye, producing a clear and distinct vision, as in the natural, healthy sight, and preventing all unpleasant sensations, such as gimmering and wavering of sight, dizziness, &c., peculiar to all others in ose.

They are mounted in the finest manner, in frames of the best quality, of all materials used for that purpose. Their finish and durability can not be surpassed.
